FINAL RULING IN RIO CASE

SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO LIMIT THE LIABILITY OF THE PACIFIC MAIL COMPANY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Chief Justice Fuller of the United States Supreme Court today announced that the court has refused a writ of certiorari in the case of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company vs. Sarah Gwyn. The case involved the question of damages on account of the wreck of the passenger steamship City of Rio de Janeiro, which sank off the Golden Gate at San Francisco in 1901, carrying 120 persons, including Consul General Wildman.

The case was a test one, and it was charged that although twenty minutes time elapsed after the signal to lower the boats before the catastrophe occurred, only one boat was floated. This, the steamship company claimed, was due to the fact that many members of the crew were Chinese and could not understand the orders given them but the court refused to limit liability on this account.

The purpose of the petition for a writ of certiorari was to bring the case to the supreme court for review, and the denial has the effect of making final the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, which was favorable to the passengers.

PERFORMANCE AT THEATER TONIGHT

The first performance of "The Spy" will be given at the Hawaiian Opera House this evening to a well filled house. The proceeds will go to the National Guard of Hawaii whose members have been working hard for the success of the undertaking and many of whom will take an active part in the play.

A final full dress rehearsal at the Opera House last evening proved the players thoroughly acquainted with their individual roles and assures a meritorious production.

The cast of characters is particularly strong and includes thirty-five speaking parts. In the great battle scene, camp scenes and other military situations over 125 people will be on the stage at one time.

There are still many good seats for late comers which can be procured at Wall, Nichols Co., up to five o'clock this evening, and later at the Opera House. A second performance will be given at the opera house Saturday night.

WAIPAHU CANE FIRE

The Waipahu police are investigating a cane fire that is thought to have been of incendiary origin. The fire was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Fernandez when the latter was going home from Ewa Friday night. He extinguished the blaze, only a small part of a field being burned. Some Japs had the field on contract shares and a quarrel between them ensued. One of them is suspected of setting fire to the property.

JAP ON HORSEBACK

Deputy Sheriff Fernandez of Ewa reported that a Jap on horseback rode down a Korean and injured him seriously last Friday morning. Several ribs of the Korean were broken and he was otherwise seriously injured. He was sent to the plantation hospital, while the Jap, Sikuda by name, was arrested. The Korean was too ill to appear in court today to testify against the Jap.

LIBEL CASES PASSED UP

FOR ACTION BY THE HIGHER AUTHORITIES—UMAUMA AND NAKOOKO WAIVE EXAMINATION.

The political libel cases were in the police court this morning, but none of the evidence was heard. The first case was that against Charles Notley, late Home Rule nominee for delegate to Congress. A continuance until November 28 was granted by Judge Judd at the request of the prosecution.

In the cases of J. K. Nakookoo and Stephen Umauma, charged with libeling Frank Harvey, J. M. Poepe appeared as counsel for the defense, and W. A. Kinney for the prosecution. The prosecution was ready to proceed. The Nakookoo case was first taken up. Poepe raised an objection in which the jurisdiction of the court to try the cases was questioned. The attorney held that since the introduction of the grand jury system in these islands no institution but the jury had the right to conduct preliminary examinations. The warrant on which the arrest had been made was null and void. The court replied that according to such contention no arrests or prosecutions could be had when the grand jury was not in session. The objection was overruled. Poepe announced that the former attorney, J. J. Dunne, had thrown up the case and that he, Poepe, had only been retained yesterday and was scarcely prepared to proceed with the examination.

Kinney stated that all that the prosecution would put on the stand would be Hauka and Harvey. Poepe then said that so far as he was concerned he would waive examination and allow the defendants to be committed to the action of the grand jury. The court called both defendants up and inquired if they were willing that the examination should be waived. Nakookoo was willing but Umauma demurred so a brief conference was held with the attorney after which both announced they were willing to waive the examination. Both were then committed.

DRILL FOR HONOLULU FIREMAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 3.—A. Berg, a member of the Honolulu Fire Commission, called at the local fire department headquarters yesterday to present a letter of introduction from President J. A.
